

Finding a Draw Site Out of State:

You can use our draw locator: <https://www.vibrant-america.com/blood-draw-maps/v2>

Just type in your address or zip code to search draw sites near you

Fees are not usually listed as businesses update these frequently. Please call the site to ask about hours and draw fees. You may need to specify that you are doing a draw for Vibrant America, as they often draw for multiple lab companies.

If we do not have any sites near you, you may call a local hospital or clinic to see if they can assist. Here are the questions that you will want to ask:

- Please ask if they can do a draw if you have a kit for a specialty lab. The kit will contain the tubes and collection instructions. It will also have an order form with Danielle's electronic signature.
- Please also make sure that they have a centrifuge
- Ask if they charge a draw fee (if they say it depends on the labs, make sure you clarify that the actual labs are paid for, you just need a blood draw and for someone to spin the tubes down and do some processing)
- Please ask about the FedEx drop-off. If the site has a daily FedEx drop-off, they may be able to take care of it for you. However, if they do not, you may need to take the box to FedEx before the express drop-off is over (you will just have to call the closest FedEx to check what time that is as they are all different). In that case, you will also need to wait for processing to be done. This involves allowing time for the blood to clot, spinning down the tube, and packing everything up. This will take at least 30 minutes, often about 45 min - 1 hour.

Blood Testing Tips:

- 1) Make sure your child is very well hydrated
- 2) DO NOT get your lab drawn on a Friday, Saturday, Sunday, or on a date adjacent to a holiday. This may cause a delay in getting your sample to the lab and may require a re-draw.
- 3) A "Buzzy" can help reduce any discomfort your kiddo might experience getting their blood drawn. <https://explore.paincarelabs.com/buzzyhelps>
- 4) We do recommend stopping vitamins a few days before getting your micronutrient test drawn, although it is not 100% necessary.

If you are still unable to find a site, or if you have any questions related to your testing, please email Madison at jmnoone@vibrant-america.com
